

THE BEATLES
"Here Comes the Sun"

PLAYLIST

JOAKIM NILSSON OF GRAVEYARD

1

"Tensions"

Charles Mingus

"Really cool psychotic wind instrument in this tune, which makes me doubt my own musical skills...and that's a good thing if you want to keep your feet on the ground!"

2

"Roscoe"

Midlake

"Nice song to just lie down, close your eyes and listen to. Bonus that it sounds like the theme to *M*A*S*H* in the beginning."

3

"On Battleship Hill"

PJ Harvey

"I almost never get blown away by music anymore, but PJ never lets me down. She and her music are as beautiful as ever and also truly amazing live, and that is extremely rare in my book."

4

"Raging River of Fear"

Captain Beyond

"Extremely talented musicians, and one of the most underrated bands in history. Great vocals from Rod Evans, who was an original member of Deep Purple. He influenced me a lot when I was younger."

5

"With You There to Help Me"

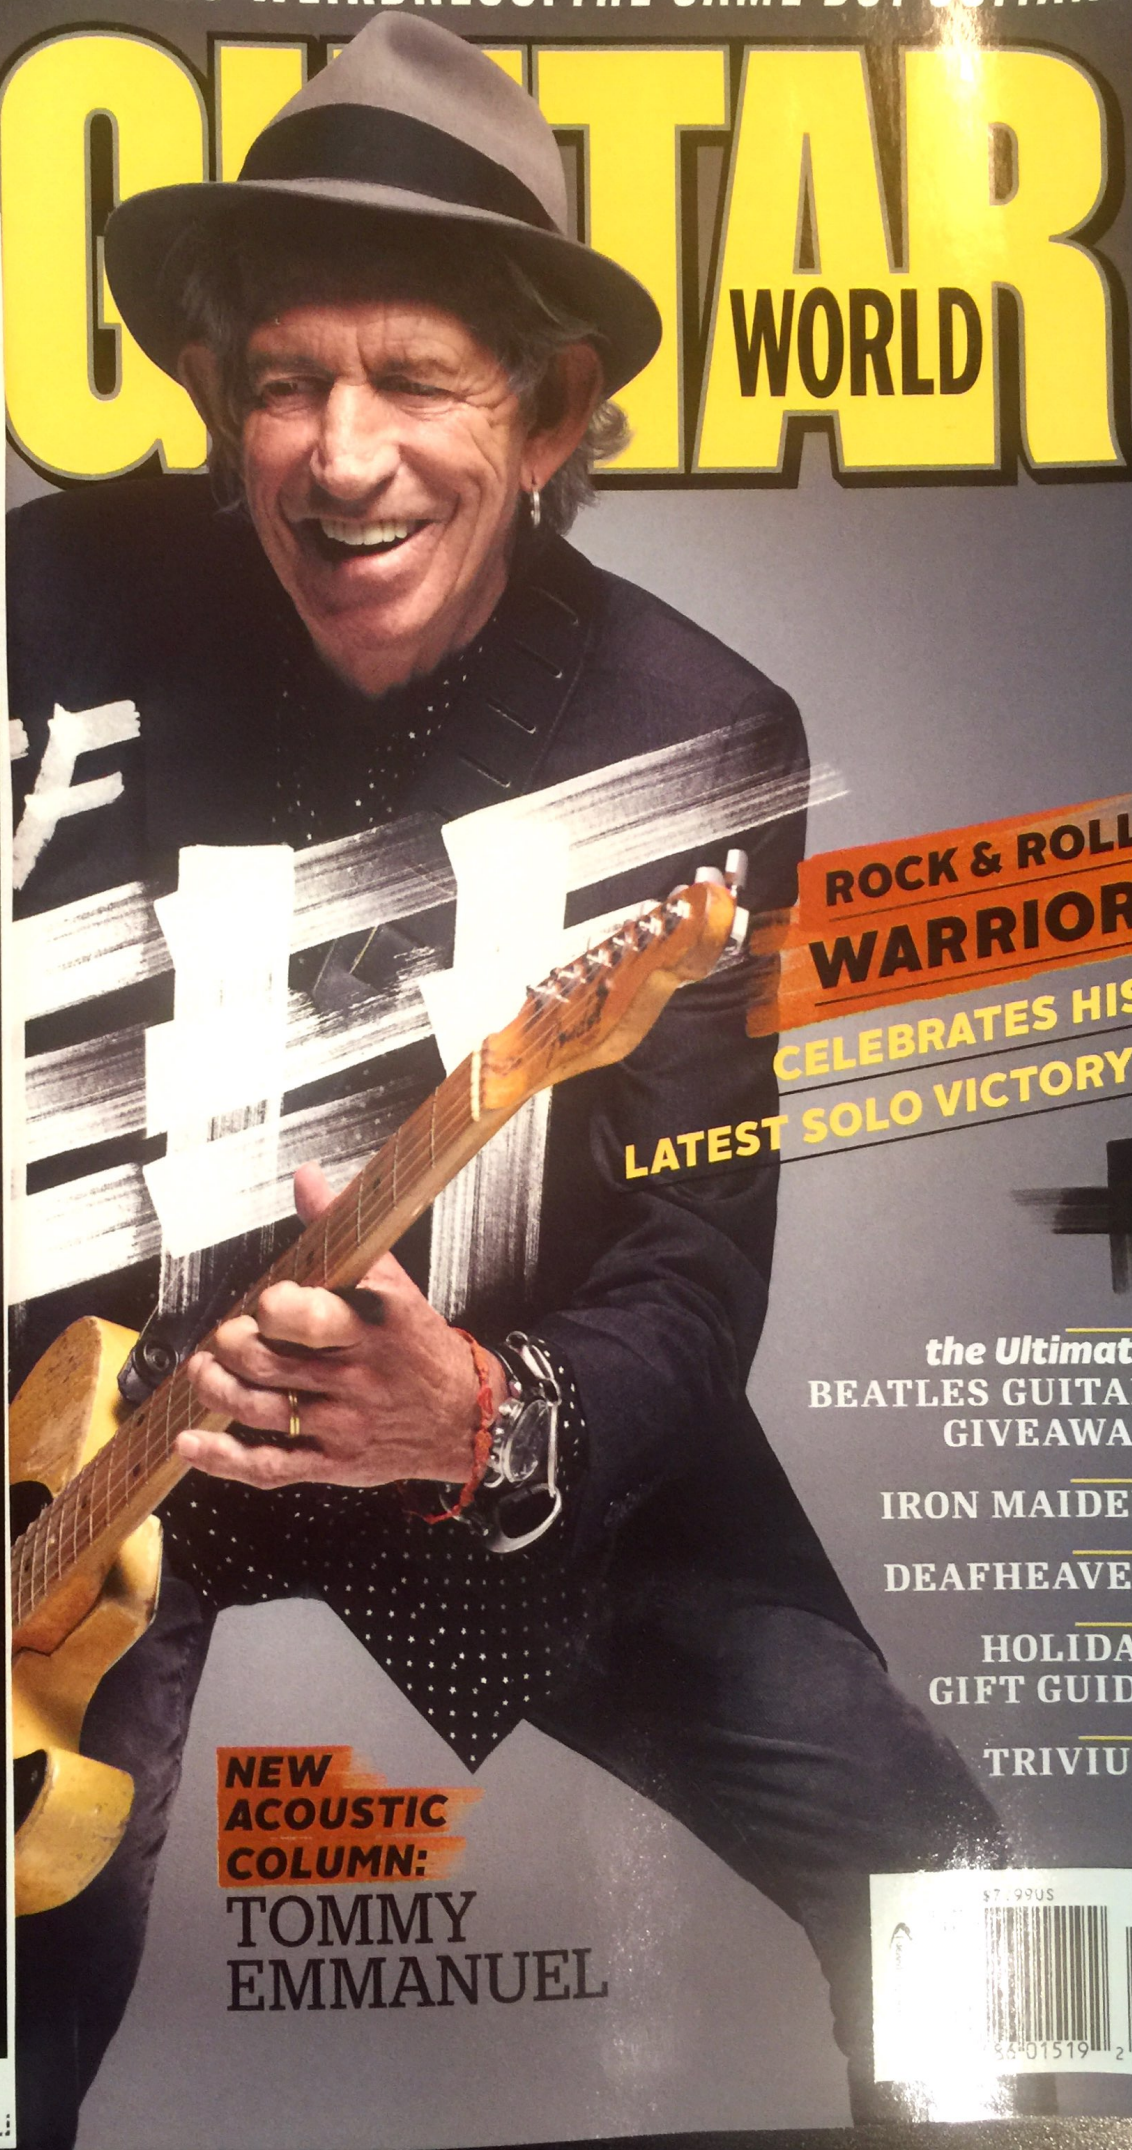

Jethro Tull

"Ian Anderson is a genius at making melodies. And it doesn't hurt that he plays the flute standing on one leg—it's how it should be played!"
